16.30 - 18.00 PARALLEL THEMATIC WORKSHOPS

E-INCLUSION FOR SOCIAL AND ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITIES

Room: Northern Foyer

Today's world is still divided into individuals who have full access to information and communication technologies (ICT), and those who do not. This digital imbalance has effects on social and economic inequalities. The workshop aims at discussing how ICT help to improve the quality of life of individuals and communities and open up new social and economic opportunities for different groups within society (e.g. elderly, disabled people). The workshop will address the main benefits of being fully part of the information and knowledge-based society and how ICT contribute to creating a more inclusive society.

Moderator: Dr. Andrea Mairate, Directorate General for Regional and Urban Policy, European Commission

Speakers:

Ms. Loreta Križinauskienė, Association 'Langas į ateitį', Lithuania

Latvian Presidency of the Council of the European Union

MINISTRY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS
REPUBLIC OF LATVIA

Mr. Tore Langemyr Larsen, Seniornett Norge, Norway
Mr. Gerard de Nooij, Ongehinderd, Netherlands

SMART INTERNAL ENERGY MARKET - BENEFITS FOR CONSUMERS

Room: Glass Room

The workshop will focus on internal energy market and smart grids. It aims to discuss such questions as: what is smart grid and how will it benefit consumers? How can and are consumers actually benefiting in practice, both individually and as a group, from innovations? How can regional cooperation help realising the Smart Internal Energy Market? Best practices on current experience and future solutions will be presented.

Moderator: Mr. Roberto Zangrandi, EDSO for Smart Grids, Belgium

Speakers:

Mr. Senan McGrath, ESB ecars, Ireland
Mr. Steve Mullins, PwC, United Kingdom
Prof. Dr. Jochen Kreusel, ABB/GF-SG, Germany

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MOBILITY IN THE BALTIC SEA REGION

Room: Basement

Mobility creates opportunities, but also challenges in both sending and receiving countries. The workshop aims at discussing young people's mobility in the Baltic Sea region and beyond by looking at the variety of experiences of a number of specific groups of young people on the move: labour emigrants; international students and young professionals; refugees; and Romani EU migrants. It also aims to address such questions as what specific challenges and opportunities do young people on the move raise? How should our societies' best address these?

Moderator: Mr. Matthew Kott, Uppsala University, Sweden

Speakers:

Mr. Didzis Melbiksis, Freelance Journalist, Latvia
Mr. Aleh Kliatsko, NGO 'Global Playground', Sweden
Mr. Domino Kai, Sweden's International Roma Film Festival, Sweden
Prof. Zaiga Krišjāne, University of Latvia

COMMUNICATING THE EUSBSR - DIGITAL TOOLS FOR NETWORKING AND COLLABORATION

Room: Main Hall

The success of the EU Strategy for the Baltic Sea Region (EUSBSR) greatly depends on how well and widely the achievements and benefits of the Strategy are communicated to a wide range of stakeholders in the Baltic Sea region. This workshop will look at the potential to increase the use of digital tools as a mean of communicating the EUSBSR, promoting engagement and collaboration between stakeholders, and reaching out to wider audiences.

Moderator: Mr. Tony Lockett, Directorate General for Regional and Urban Policy, European Commission

Speakers:

Mr. Gabriel Alvarez, INTERACT Programme
Ms. Johanna Laurila, HELCOM Secretariat, Finland
Mr. Teo Zetterman, Solna City, Sweden

MARITIME AND COASTAL TOURISM IN THE BALTIC SEA REGION

Room: Western Foyer

The idea of the workshop is to work out new strategies and possibilities to use the trend on maritime and coastal tourism for all tourism stakeholders. To do so best practices for projects and networks will be presented. The all-over aim is to involve the private sector (e.g. cruise enterprises) more in all activities to give a basis for a well working network with new initiatives.

Moderators: Dr. Anja Gelzer, University of Göttingen, Germany and Ms. Andrea Krabbe, Ministry of Economics, Construction and Tourism, Germany

Speakers:

Dr. Monika Griefahn, AIDA Cruises, Germany

Mr. Matthieu Ballu, Directorate-General for Maritime Affairs and Fisheries, European Commission

Mr. Jens Masuch, PLANCO Consulting GmbH, Germany

19.30 - 22.00 NETWORKING DINNER

Venue: Havana Lounge Club, Dzintari beach at the beginning of Turaidas str. (near the 'Dzintari Concert Hall').

Tuesday 16 June 2015

8.00 - 11.00 REGISTRATION FOR SECOND-DAY ARRIVALS

9.00 - 10.30 PARALLEL THEMATIC WORKSHOPS

CULTURE AND CREATIVE ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Room: Western Foyer

The workshop will explore how new technologies and international, cross-sectoral cooperation can enhance culture and creative entrepreneurship in the Baltic Sea region. Experts and stakeholders will have an interactive exchange of views around new technologies and accessibility, networking and regional branding.

Dr. Riitta Sauni, Ministry of Social Affairs and Health, Finland

Prof. Jan De Maeseneer, Ghent University, Belgium

Prof. Dr. Roland Trill, Flensburg University of Applied Sciences, Germany

Dr. Lars Lindsköld, VGR/HSA, Sweden

NICHES MATTER MORE, BORDERS LESS - TRUE INTEGRATION OF SCIENCE AND KNOWLEDGE

Room: Northern Foyer

Sustainable Blue Growth will be used as an example to illustrate how the challenge of true integration of science and society's knowledge is being achieved, not just within the usual policy horizon, but in a long-term. There is the necessity to transit to 'ecosystem-based management' beyond national boundaries - discussed for decades, yet progressed too slow. The workshop hosts a discussion on why this shift matters and the concrete benefits of science and innovation in the much-desired management action.

Moderators: Ms. Pauli Merriman, WWF Baltic Sea Programme and Mr. Andris Andrusaitis, BONUS

Speakers:

Prof. Mike Elliott, University of Hull, United Kingdom

Dr. Jana Moldanová, Swedish Environmental Research Institute, Sweden

Dr. Alf Norkko, University of Helsinki, Finland
